TelVue Corporation promotes Daniell Krawczyk to National Sales Director, Community Broadcasting

September 8, 2009 - (Mt. Laurel, NJ) TelVue Corporation (OTC.BB: TEVE) announced the promotion of Daniell Krawczyk to National Sales Director, Community Broadcasting. A 3-year TelVue veteran, Daniell was most recently National Training Director, working primarily within the New England, Midwest, and Carolinas markets. Daniell began his TelVue tenure with Princeton Server Group (acquired by TelVue in 2007) as a PEG Product Manager and Regional Sales Manager.

A graduate of Calvin College, Daniell has worked in community media since 2001. His career includes stints at two notable media centers, including the Grand Rapids Community Media Center where he mentored under public media pioneer, Dirk Koning, and Lowell Telecommunications Corporation where Daniell founded the first file distribution network for PEG content, the Digital Bicycle.

Daniell's new responsibilities will involve engaging and working with public access television stations and community media centers on a national level. Additionally, Daniell will be the company's liaison with community media organizations, such as the Alliance for Community Media (ACM), the National Alliance for Media Arts and Culture (NAMAC), and the National Association of Telecommunications Officers and Advisors (NATOA).

Paul Andrews, TelVue's SVP, Sales and Marketing said, "Daniell has been a vocal evangelist for public access and community media his entire career. His detailed understanding of public access station operations, as well as his involvement with national community media organizations such as the ACM, NAMAC, and NATOA will help TelVue continue to understand and meet the evolving needs of these important stations. We're delighted to have Daniell taking on this new expanded role at TelVue."
